DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim 2, drawn to a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1-4.

Group II, claim 3, drawn to a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 5-8.

Group III, claim 4, drawn to a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 9-13.

Group IV, claims 6 and 10, drawn to a method for detecting Alicyclobacillus spp. using a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1-4.

Group V, claims 7 and 11, drawn to a method for detecting Alicyclobacillus acidoterrestris using a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 5-8.

Group VI, claims 8 and 12, drawn to a method for detecting Alicyclobacillus acidoterrestris using a primer set consisting of SEQ ID NO: 9-13.

Linking Claims

2. Claims 1 and 13 link Inventions I-III. Also, claims 5 and 9 link Inventions IV-VI. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 1, 5, 9, and 13. Upon the indication of allowability of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be rejoined and fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104

Claims that require all the limitations of an allowable linking claim will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, the allowable linking claim, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The primer set of the instant claim 1 lacks a special technical feature in view of the prior art of Yamakazi et al. (Letters in Applied Microbiology (1996) 23: 350-354; cited on an IDS) and Notomi et al. (Nucleic Acids Research (2000) 28(12): e63). Claim 1 is drawn to a primer that amplifies a target nucleic acid sequence within nucleotides 81-934 of the 16S rDNA of an Alicyclobacillus spp. The primer has a 3' segment that anneals to the 16S rDNA of the Alicyclobacillus spp. and a 5' segment that is complementary to the nucleic acid sequence 3' of the region of the 16S rDNA annealed to by the 3' segment of the primer. The prior art of Yamakazi teaches a primer for the detection of an Alicyclobacillus spp. that anneals to nucleotides 159-178 of the 16S rDNA of Alicyclobacillus spp. (see page 351 and Figure 1b). The primer taught by Yamakazi does not have a 5' segment that is complementary to the nucleic acid sequence 3' of the region annealed to by the primer. However, it would have been obvious for an ordinary artisan to design such a primer since Notomi (Nucleic Acids Research (2000) 28(12): e63) taught that such primers could be used in an isothermal amplification method that is more sensitive and specific than the PCR amplification taught by Yamakazi (see abstract, pages v-vi, and Figure 1). Thus, in view of the prior art of Yamakazi and Notomi, the instant claims lack a special technical feature linking them over the prior art, and therefore, a lack of unity requirement is proper.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoiner in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoiner. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
